PALMERS GREEN
HIGH SCHOOL

A Star Trio

Katie Agius, Andria Koumourou and Juhee Pahuja from Palmers Green High School for Girls were the school's top three performing students in this year's GCSE examinations, achieving a total of 28 A* grades between them.

As well as achieving impressive GCSE results, the girls also participated in a wide range of extra curricular activities, including the Duke of Edinburgh Award Scheme. They also contributed to the musical life of the school and were actively involved in the Debating Society.

Outside school Katie (Games Captain) plays for the Enfield Netball Team and Andria (House Captain) attends Speech and Drama and Ballet classes. Juhee (Head Girl) assists in many fund raising activities and, together with her family, distributes clothes and food for the poor and blind in India. She even found time to attend Bollywood dance classes whilst studying for her GCSEs!

Having passed Modern Greek GCSE last year, Andria is already working towards her A level. Katie and Andria joined Palmers Green High School in Year 7 and Juhee joined in Year 8. All three girls are now looking forward to joining the sixth form and studying for their A levels (four subjects each) at Henrietta Barnett, Dame Alice Owen's and City of London School for Girls, respectively.

Head Teacher, Christine Edmundson, said "I would like to congratulate the girls on their excellent results and outstanding contribution to the school and wider community".

As a small independent GSA school, PGHS attributes much of its pupils' success to small class sizes (average 12 at GCSE) and excellent relationships between pupils, teachers and parents. This year 72.4% of pupils achieved A*/A grades.
