

Palmers Green High School (PGHS) seeks to appoint a well-qualified, enthusiastic and inspirational teacher to take forward the strong and successful Drama Department.

This is an exciting opportunity for a talented and committed teacher to lead a department that works collaboratively to get the very best from all pupils. The successful candidate will teach Drama across the age range in the Senior School with some Lower School Drama teaching and will teach English in the Senior School to KS3 in the first instance.

In addition to the curriculum teaching, the successful candidate will contribute to the school's extensive range of extracurricular activities before school, at lunchtimes and after school.

At PGHS you will be teaching bright, interested and hard-working pupils in an academically selective girls' independent school. PGHS is top of The Sunday Times Parent Power league table for small independent schools based on GCSE grades.

The School welcomes applications from those currently teaching in either the maintained or independent sector.

Salary is in accordance with the PGHS Scale. The post is currently available as fulltime, teaching both Drama and English.

Further details of the post and the School can be found in the General Information, Head of Drama General Information, Head of Department Job Description and General Job Description documents.

Palmers Green High School is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children, and applicants must be willing to undergo child protection screening appropriate to the post, including checks with past employers and the Disclosure and Barring Service.

Applications should be submitted online at: <https://www.tes.com/jobs/>

The closing date for applications is Wednesday 28th April at 12 noon and interviews are anticipated to take place from the week commencing Monday 3rd May 2021. We reserve the right to interview suitable candidates before the closing date so early applications are encouraged.
